Church Wardens Report

The main events since the last PCC have been the Christmas services. As always they were wonderfully supported by large congregations. Tom led the candlelit carol service which flowed smoothly with the carols and readings and two numbers sung by the choir. It was followed by mulled wine and mince pies which were most welcome.

There were over 130 people at the children's service on Christmas Eve. Sadly Pauline who had put so much into the preparations was unwell and unable to take part, but Tom got all the children involved and the Christmas message was fully enacted. The collection, over £289, gift envelopes and donations of food have been passed to the Food Bank. The short Family communion on Christmas morning was well attended.

I am most grateful to Dick Caudle for arranging the food bank collection in the village on our behalf.

Outline plans of the Tower Option for the proposed toilet and kitchenette have been drawn up by our architect and are being studied prior to seeking the support of B&NES and Historic England. Jane Rees is leading discussions on the proposal. Archdeacon Adrian Youngs came to St Julian's for an informal visit on January 16th, He was in favour of the plans and promised his full support.

Pam and I are most grateful for all the support we have received from the PCC and Church family during 2017.
